Bridgwater Guy Fawkes Carnival Committee will actively encourage members of groups from all sectors of the community to offer themselves for election to join the committee and/or other decision making or advisory sub committees.

Sex Discrimination

The provisions of the Equality Act 2010 apply to both Men and Women. The Act makes it unlawful, unless the duty or volunteering opportunity is covered by an exemption, to discriminate on the grounds of sex or marriage. Discrimination occurs when a condition, or requirement is applied which cannot be justified.

Direct Sex Discrimination occurs when a person is treated less favourably on the grounds of sex than a person of the other sex would be in the same circumstances.

Indirect Sex Discrimination may still occur when a requirement or condition is applied equally to men and women. Such a condition may nevertheless discriminate against one sex because the proportion of one sex, which can comply with it is much smaller than the proportion of the other sex that can comply with it.

Marriage Discrimination occurs when a married person is treated less favourably on the grounds of marital status than an unmarried person of the sex would be in the same circumstances, this discrimination may be direct or indirect as explained above.

Sexual Harassment

Bridgwater Guy Fawkes Carnival Committee wishes to make it quite clear that sexual harassment is unlawful and views harassment very seriously.

The definition adopted by Bridgwater Guy Fawkes Carnival Committee is:

Repeated and unwanted verbal or sexual advances, sexually explicit derogatory statements or sexually discriminating remarks which are offensive to the member, associate or affiliate involved, which cause that person to feel threatened, humiliated, patronised or harassed or which creates a threatening or intimidating environment.

Racial Discrimination

The Equality Act 2010 makes it unlawful to discriminate against a person directly or indirectly in the field of employment.

Direct discrimination consists of treating a person differently and less favourable on the grounds of their racial origin.

Indirect discrimination consists of treating everyone the same but in a way, which results in some people not being able to comply where others from another racial background can.

Demands of Religion (e.g. prayer times and religious holidays) and of culture (traditional dress) are accepted.

Racial Harassment

It is imperative that members, associates and affiliates are aware of legal commitments and of its opposition to all forms of racism. Incidents include:

- Physical assaults/threats against a person or group because of colour or ethnicity.
- Racist insult/joke/name calling.

People who are known (or perceived) to be Lesbian or Gay regularly experience harassment, verbal or physical assault in many areas of their lives including the workplace. Bridgwater Guy Fawkes Carnival Committee will not tolerate this direct discrimination.

Disability

The Equality Act 2010 introduces new laws and measures aimed at ending the discrimination which many disabled people face.

It is against the law for an employer or voluntary organisation to treat a disabled person less favourably than someone else because of his or her disability, unless there is good reason.

It is unlawful to victimise people or to knowingly help another person to discriminate. Bridgwater Guy Fawkes Carnival Committee wishes to encourage opportunities for people with disabilities and/or mental health issues.
